Remote Learning Continues

We appreciate your patience and support as we transition and learn how to best serve our students with digital curriculum.

Our STS, Mr. Gorton is collaborating with District coordinators to help resolve the technical difficulties we have encountered with remote learning. Please continue to contact him and the teachers directly as problems arise. We are committed to finding a resolution as quickly as possible.

Today, Monday, March 23rd was originally scheduled as a Professional Day (No School for students).

However, in light of the soft closure, Monday, March 16th and Tuesday, March 17th became the teacher work days. The district asked that today resume as a normal school day. We apologize for any confusion this may have caused.

All remote learning lesson plans have been posted to our website for your convenience.

Teachers and staff have also been placed on a remote, rotating schedule for onsite work days.

However, we are all still available to support you and your student. Please contact the school or your child's teacher directly with any questions or concerns.

Thank you!
